NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Norway State Road for 1909.

Road Commissioner E. D. Millett and a crew of men began working on the State Road last week. This is on the Lake Road, near the ice house.

The road is to be constructed on the "V" drain model. It is to be 21 feet wide with a slope from the center on the surface of 12 to 18 inches. The drain is 12 feet wide. The center of the drain is 24 inches deep and the sides 10 inches deep—this is to be cobble filled. The large stones are placed at the bottom, but none larger than eight inches are used, and smaller stones on this foundation. This drain will be covered with six inches of gravel laid directly on the stone foundation. Side outlets are provided about every 100 feet.

The town has about $900 to expend on the State road this year, and will build as much as possible for that money.

Cut His Throat the Second Time.

J. J. Fuller, better known as Jed Fuller, aged 86 years, cut his throat Monday evening. Mr. Fuller was in very fair health and was able to walk considerably. He left the home of his nephew, William H. Packard, on Brighton Hill, Hebron, Monday, and took dinner with Howard Merrill at East Hebron. He called later at George Packard's and left there about 6 p. m. When he did not reach home at 8 o'clock a search was made for him and he was located in a deserted house by the road, in a serious condition from slashes in his throat made by his jackknife. This is the second time in 10 years that he has tried to end his life by cutting his throat. It is thought that he cannot survive.

For many years Mr. Fuller was a smart business man in East Hebron. He ran a country store for years at what is known as Marshall's Crossing. He married a Buckfield woman and leaves several sons.

At one time he lived in Norway. He owned the building on the corner of Water and Pleasant streets and had a store there. He built the tenement house just back of the house he owned on the corner.

Mrs. E. L. Co wan of Rumford Falls is visiting at Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Bradbury's.

Mrs. Bertha Startevant has been spending a two weeks' vacation at Old Orchard.

Several neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown met at their home, Saturday evening.

Ernest Brown was visited by his mother, Mrs. John Brown of Gloucester, Mass., the first of the week.

Rev. I. B. Mower of Waterville, who is secretary of the Maine Baptist Convention, preached at the Baptist church, Sunday.

Mrs. Alfreda Campbell of Mechanic Falls is visiting Mrs. Emma Benson. Mrs. Campbell thinks there are many changes in Norway since she visited it some 14 years ago.

Dr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Drake and family of North Weymouth, Mass., who have been at their cottage by Lake Pennesseewassee for several weeks, returned to Massachusetts, Wednesday.

E. N. Swett, wife and son Francis are having their annual two weeks vacation and are stopping at "The Farm," by the lake-side. Recently Mr. Swett's son, Francis, caught a half dozen or more white perch from off the wharf. Mr. Swett's father stops with him and they are entertaining other friends as they come along.

The people of the Baptist church and parish think themselves most fortunate that Rev. J. E. Whitmore has consented to continue the work in Norway. Although he has been here but a short time he has won the esteem of all and the friendship of many. Mr. Whitmore will be away for a two weeks' vacation at Hampden and next Sunday Rev. J. A. Harding will preach.

A fire started on the "Cole lot" on Paris Hill, Friday, owned by C. B. Cummings & Sons. Their forest fighters went and put it under control. Again Saturday it broke out and more fire fighting was necessary. C. B. Cummings & Sons own a good many acres of land and they know what forest fire means. They understand fire fighting and use all haste when a fire gets started to get it under control as quickly as possible.

The Dennis Pike Real Estate Agency has sold the Jacob Shapiro stand on Brown Street to H. Isaacson.

Cleve Brown and Mr. Waterhouse of West Bethel spent Tuesday at Mr. Brown's mother's, Mrs. Emogene Brown.

W. R. Eastman of East Sumner, the new county commissioner, was in Norway the first of the week. He was attending a meeting of the commissioners at the court house.

All ladies of the Universalist circle, who are interested in the County Fair dinners are requested to meet with Mrs. S. B. Cummings on this Friday evening August 20th to make plans for serving same.

Mrs. Hugh Pendexter and son Hugh of Rochester, New York, who have been the guests of F. W. Faunce left town Thursday. They will visit in Lynn and Weymouth, Mass., before returning to Rochester.

The other day a certain person in town who was speaking about the intense heat and the need of rain made the remark that the grass in Cyrus Woodsum's meadow ought to be cut. Naturally, the one to whom the remark was made inquired why, wondering what connection cutting the grass in Cyrus Woodsum's meadow would have to do with the weather. "Well", he said, "Cyrus Woodsum's meadow has the same charm on the weather as George Cole's field does, for when the grass is cut we are sure to have rain and the worst of drouths will surely be broken when these pieces of land are mowed". Tuesday it commenced to rain and the party who made this remark happened to be met while it was raining pretty hard and so, of course, he was asked if Woodsum's meadow had been cut and the reply was, "O, yes, and the hay got wet as usual and now we are having the rain which everyone is looking for."

Mohawks Defeated Again.

Radcliffe 3, Mohawks 2.

"Uncle" Bill Leith and his faithful nephews met the Mohawks' second attack at the Fair Grounds last Saturday afternoon and painted 3-2 on the visitors' scalping equipment after a bloodless struggle, which will pass as one of the best display of clever work seen on the grounds for many months.

The Indians are a swift band and hold the city of Portland League Championship. Better still they are considered one of the fastest amateur teams in Maine, consequently to put them on their backs until counted out, means considerable work for the team able to pass up such tricks. Radcliffe did it though, but it was a tight clinch with chances about even for both clubs.

It did look at one time when the Indians covered the bases on two out, that they might gather a big lead and walk away with this contest. But a long fly sent into deep right field and captured by that nimble Jimmy Farnum after a hard sprint, broke the luck and saved Radcliffe a hard up hill fight. Pitcher Libby's twisters didn't prove so effective as on the first occasion for he only fanned one Radcliffe batter and was touched up rather freely for hits.

"Uncle" Bill of Norway had his opponents sized up well. He struck out six, yet passed one, hit another, and these two hard luck moves figured as scores, while those who singled cleanly failed to pass beyond third base. Both teams played clean ball in a manner acceptable to a large crowd massed along the side lines and scattered over the grand stand.

The whole performance was a marked contrast to the "bump the bumb" exhibition of the previous week, and the Radcliffe management showed good judgment by strengthening the combination with Harley Rawson on third and Jimmy Farnum in right field.

The Game.

The Mohawks opened up the afternoon sport with Bradbury at the bat. He singled, stole second then passed to third when Jordan was retired by Clason to Gammon. This looked like an easy run but "Uncle" Bill proved equal to the occasion and struck out both True and Ham, leaving Bradbury behind on third.

Harrison started things sailing for Radcliffe when he cracked into left field a two-sacker, then scored on Clason's fly to Springer and the usual throw in. Lanan was out from True to Gooding and Leith flied for the third out to Ham.

Mohawks landed their first run in the second inning with two men out. Higgins was hit on the ankle by "Uncle" Bill, thus secured first base and a runner to finish the trip. The substitute stole second and gained third on what Umpire Flavin declared a balk. A weak kick resulted but as the rule book was missing the decision stood, and a score was recorded when Abbott whanged a fly into right field which Cole secured, and tumbling flat, lost the prize in the mix-up.

This play gave Abbott a safe first and Cole his bench, as Manager Leith immediately sent Jimmy Farnum to the position. Abbott didn't live long as a runner for he was thrown out by Lanan while attempting to steal second.

There was no more run getting until Radcliffe blazed away in their fourth; Lanan broke in with a single but Jordan endeavoring to make a put out at first threw wild, sending Lanan to second; "Uncle" Bill punched a long winded one into left field for two bases, scoring Lanan; Rawson flied out to Ham and Leith advanced to third when Jimmy Farnum tapped out another single. Abbott of the Mohawks showed his skill at throwing bases when Farnum attempted to steal second with a runner on third, for Jimmy was caught by yards, yet William couldn't score on the play owing to the quick return. Gammon closed the inning on a warm hit to Bradbury, who sent it to Gooding for the put out.

The Norwayites scored again in the fifth. With Young and Lafrance gone, "Kid" Harrison singled; Clason pounded for two bases, sending Harrison over the pan, and gained third on the throw in but died there as Lanan went out on an easy grounder from Jordan to Gooding.

Those Portland Indians started their sixth attack in true scalp hunting style, and just grazed packing the game away safely. With Libby out, Bradbury and Jordan placed out a clean single; True rolled a grounder to Harrison but "Kid" was just a trifle excited because of this hair raising situation, so didn't catch any one of the three runners. With the bases filled with speedy Indians, Ham flied Gammon; Gooding walloped into deep right field something good for base clearing if the ball had escaped a fielder; both Young and Farnum beat it when they got the direction of this meteorite but Jimmy Farnum closed in first and chocked it hard, after a long sprint which ended with a high reach. It was certainly a pretty catch and saved the day for Radcliffe, as two runners were across the plate and another one leaving third when this clever put out was made.

Mrs. Alice Marston is visiting relatives in Yaggar.

Howard Knightly is working on the State road.

Mrs. Frank P. Merrill of Dorchester, Mass., who had been to Keewadyn camp, East Stoneham, to visit a friend, called at the ADVERTISER office, Monday morning on her way to the train.

Upper Water Street.

W. E. Everett and wife are at work in the shoe shop.

W. E. Everett has purchased a house lot of C. C. Dearborn.

H. O. Holden was in Portland two days last week, on business.

H. F. Webb & Co. have had a water meter put into the corn shop.

We learn that F. P. Hoyt and wife are to stay with H. O. Holden during the corn packing season.

Mrs. Flora Scribner was taken suddenly ill Sunday night, but is more comfortable at this writing.

Henry O. Holden is enlarging his store. He expects to have the improvements finished before the corn shop starts up.

Dennis Marr has been having an outing at Harpswell and Orr's Island for the past month. He returned home the 16th.

The Boston Post Cane.

The Boston Post gold headed cane was delivered by George W. Holmes, chairman of the Norway Board of Selectmen, Tuesday, to the oldest man in town, Peter B. Buck. Mr. Buck is 89 years and 10 months old. He was born in Greenwood and moved to Norway village thirteen years ago, and bought the house on Whitman street where he now lives with his daughter, Sarah Buck.

The next oldest man, as far as the selectmen have heard, is W. H. Porter. W. H. Buck laid claim to the cane by having been born in Norway, April 27, 1824, and always lived in town.

The intentions of the doners were for the cane to go to the "oldest registered male citizen" living in town.

Dr. Charles Henry Evans.

Dr. Charles Henry Evans died in Yarmouth, Aug. 4th, of apoplexy at the age of 79 years. He was born in Norway, July 5, 1830, the son of Richard and Mary W. (Hill) Evans. His father was contractor and builder and built many buildings in Norway and South Paris. In 1864 he married Alice E. Leighton. He was the oldest of a family of nine children.

Ralph Harriman visited Rumford Falls, Sunday.

Mrs. Ella Knightly has finished work in the shoe shop.

Fred Moore from Gilead has been visiting a few days at Norway.

Wilber Rogers and family go this week for a vacation near Portland.

Mrs. Jennie Thompson and children have returned home from Bridgton.

Mrs. Frank Cox spent a few days last week with her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar N. Cox.

The Millett-Noyes-Porter families picnicked at Gibson's grove, Lake Pennesseewassee, Tuesday.

Dr. A. H. Staples is to be away on a vacation next week. Dr. Wendall Rounds will be at Dr. F. E. Drake's dental rooms.

O. L. Stone spent the Sabbath with his family at Empire Grove. He will return the last three days of this week.

Mrs. George Devine returned from the hospital, Wednesday and James N. Favor, Friday of last week. Both are making good recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hathaway, Mr. and Mrs. George Hathaway and daughter, Clara Louise Hathaway, are at Twin Island this week.

Grace C. Cary of Augusta district superintendent of the Maine Children's Home Society has been in town soliciting funds for the society.

Mary A. Stone accompanied by her sister Mrs. N. R. Henry and son Lester from Rumford are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Albion Wildes of Kennebunk.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Smith and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Goodwin are at the Leavitt bungalow by the lake. The men work in the village days and go back and forth nights and mornings.

Last Saturday, A. C. Bradeen was before the Lewiston Municipal Court on a charge of embezzlement. He waived examination and gave bonds to the sum of $300. It grew out of a settlement with the White Sewing Machine Co., of which he was agent, a shortage of $120 is claimed by the Company. Mr. Bradeen was for some years a resident of this town and his friends cannot believe he has attempted anything criminal. If so, he has changed greatly the few years he has been down river.

E. W. Dyer, trouble hunter for the Maine Telephone & Telegraph Co., shows us a small book size 3½x5½ inches, he picked out of an ash barrel at Alexandria, Virginia. Evidently someone threw it away. It is a synopsis of the rebellion from 1860 and to the time of its close, giving in detail date and time of each battle and other important events during the stirring times of 1861-1865. It gives maps of the different battle fields and is a book highly prized by its finder. It was evidently written by someone on the northern side of the unpleasantness, as we notice all illusions to the confederates are termed "rebels."

Vernon C. Curtis of Locke Mills, called on friends in town, Wednesday.

The Parets of Philadelphia are at their camp by the lake. They came Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin York of Damariscotta Mills, are visiting at Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Bassett's.

Mrs. Carl Leighton, who has been spending the past few weeks at her home at Lowell, Mass., returned home, Saturday.

Mrs. L. H. Trufant of Norway and her sister, Miss Hodnett of Danforth, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Trufant of Auburn.

Mrs. Milo Hardy and Rev. and Mrs. Elwell O. Nead and two sons of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Faunce.

Arthur Littlefield and family moved to Alton, N. H., Monday, where Mr. Littlefield has a position as foreman in stitching room at the shoe factory.

Col. and Mrs. A. J. Stearns, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Bartlett have been guests of Dr. and Mrs. Wallace K. Oakes of Auburn at Poland Spring.

Lona Noble went to the Eye and Ear Infirmary at Portland and was absent seven days and had adenoids and large tonsils removed. She has returned to work but is not fully recovered.

Noble's Corner.

Henry White is at work on the State road.

Quite a few from this place went on the excursion to Old Orchard, Sunday.

W. A. Hersey, the bass player of the Mackietonquor band, has bought him a new horn.

The Misses Adams of Stoneham are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Lola Curtis, of Noble's Corner.

The dance at Cole's hall last Saturday night under the management of Roy A. White was well attended. Thirty couple went on the march and circle.

Alfred Wyman has sprayed some of his apple trees with a solution of Paris green and lime to make away with those dreaded green worms, but hasn't obtained very good results as yet.

Norway Municipal Court.

WM. F. JONES, JUDGE.

The case of the State vs. Fred F. Burnham was tried last Saturday. It is alleged that Burnham broke into the house on the William Work place in Oxford, in the night time last January and took therefrom a sewing machine, clothes, trunks, crockery and glassware and hauled it off with a horse. The goods were owned by Sumner O. Newcomb, who had been running a steam mill in that vicinity. This matter has been in the hands of the officers for some month and W. A. Bicknell went to Auburn and found young Burnham there, who was enjoying a furlough.

It seems that Burnham had enlisted some two or three months ago in the United States navy and was on a furlough of two weeks from the revenue cutter Androscoggin, when he was taken by the deputy sheriff. At the trial he pleaded guilty and was bound over in the sum of $500 for the October term of court. Unable to give bail, he was committed.

State vs. George Perkins of Buckfield, for drunkenness and disturbance on the highway of that town. Arrested by jailor Harry D. Cole, South Paris, tried Saturday, found guilty, fined $3 and costs $11.31, paid and released.

Half Mile Lead Cable.

The Maine Telephone Co., are completing some over a half mile of cable for 60 pairs of wires. It extends to the junction of Winter, Beal and Tucker streets.

Preston O. Howard, superintendent of construction, and Geo. L. Perry, foreman of Livermore Falls, and crew strung the cable.

George Thompson and Eddie Ames spent Sunday at Peak's Island.

Mrs. H. E. Houghton of Portland is the guest of the family of Hon. A. S. Kimball.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hull of Whitman, Mass., are stopping at H. J. Bangs'. Mr. Hull was foreman of the New Light department at the shoe shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frost and daughter, Mrs. Leroy D. Keene, and son William of South Framingham, Mass., are visiting relatives in town and vicinity.

Mrs. D. M. French and son Bernard are visiting in Portland. They have been absent two or three weeks. Mrs. French is having her eyes treated.

Another of the popular Band Concerts will be given at Central Park to-night. There will be new pictures, illustrated songs, vaudeville and dancing in the pavilion.

Mrs. Abbie L. Johnson has been very ill with heart trouble at her daughter's, Mrs. Harry Lovejoy's, where she lives. Her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Lary, was with her several days.

A swarm of wild bees settled in a small maple on Horace Cole's front lawn at the Olcott Brown stand last Friday. Mr. Cole secured a hive and had the colony safely housed in quick order.

Richard Deitrich returned to Haverhill, Monday, after an absence of two weeks from his work. While in Norway he visited his parents on Pike hill, and went with Company D to Augusta during the muster.

Roger M. Hutchins, who has been storekeeper at the factory for B. F. Spinney & Co three years the first of last February, closes his labors there the first of September. John Briggs will be his successor as storekeeper. Mr. Hutchins is undecided as to what he shall do but he won't be idle long.

Captain J. W. Nash left Norway for Toronto, Wednesday. He sent along a carload of exhibits for the Grand Trunk railroad. This consists of mounted animals, birds and fish and other natural exhibits found in the territory traversed by the Grand Trunk. Captain Nash will arrange these specimens for an exhibit at the Canadian Fair at Toronto from Aug. 28 to Sept. 30.

Carrie Tucker attended the funeral of her uncle, Amos L. Millett, in Portland, Wednesday. Mr. Millett was well known in this vicinity, having been born in Paris. He married Ellen J., daughter of Lucius Denison of Norway. Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Lyman Chipman of Portland and Mrs. Ellis Lawrence of Portland, Oregon. Mr. Millett was a merchant in Portland for many years.

The Ladies Aid of the Baptist church held a special meeting at the vestry Thursday to consider the resignation of the President, Mrs. Dora Tower. As she is to move to Portland her resignation was accepted. The only officers at present are Mrs. Susie Whitmore, Treasurer Mrs. Harold Anderson, Secretary, as the vice-president's chair has been vacant for sometime. The Secretary will call a meeting the regular meeting day, the 1st Thursday in September for the purpose of filling the chairs.

E. M. Whittle and wife of Malden, Mass., and W. A. Fogg, wife and son Philip arrived here by auto, Wednesday evening, and are stopping at the Beal's Hotel. Mr. Whittle was born in Greenwood and lived when a boy for a number of years at Norway Center. He was the son of Edmund Whittle and his mother was a Hobbs, sister of the late Lorenzo Hobbs. Some 43 years ago he started in the milk business and has been in the business ever since. He says he is so poor he has to continue in the business, but from outward indications one would believe he is doing business because he wants to and not because he is obliged to work.

The ladies of the Veranda club were entertained at the residence of Mrs. John M. Bumpus last Thursday afternoon. It was a picnic gathering for the children, ten or more children were present. The ladies took their sewing along with them and were busy talking and sewing all the afternoon. Supper was served on the lawn and about thirty partook. Among the visitors were Mrs. Mary Lawrence of Ashbury, N. J., Ida Hall, Mrs. McAllister, Mrs. Linnie Parker and Mrs. Cora Cordwell of Norway. The next meeting of the club will be at the residence of Mrs. W. K. Bickford, Thursday afternoon, Aug. 26, at 2 p. m.

Special Train to Mechanic Falls.

Saturday the Radcliffes will go to Mechanic Falls to play the home team of that town. They are playing a series of five games for the championship of Western Maine. The first in this series was a draw; the second, a score of 5-2 in favor of the Radcliffes; and in the third game of the series the score was 5-3 in favor of Mechanic Falls. A special train will run to Mechanic Falls from Norway Saturday starting at 1 30 p m and returning after the game.

The Lawn Party in the Hall.

The Lawn Party given by the Philathea Class of the Universalist Sunday School, Monday evening selected an unfavorable evening for a lawn party because the weather was unfavorable for an out-of-doors fete. Still it might have been worse for it did not rain only threatened to rain and was chilly and damp.

The lawn party was held in Concert hall, where the ice cream, cake, home made candy and refreshing drinks were served. At the particular time when we visited the hall Clara Louise Hathaway, Susie Walker and Lucy Barrows were the young ladies at the table.

Ruth Cummings and Mildred Curtis were making good music on the piano and Marion Haskell on the violin.

A Freak of Nature.

Charlie Ryerson has a hen that lays a lot of double yolked eggs. His mother broke one a few days since and found a good yolk and white of an egg, and a small egg perfect in every way, shell as hard as any egg within. This is a very strange freak but true, as we have sufficient proof from reliable persons.

A Rare Sight.

The new Waterford stage driver, McAllister, is having a lot of business these days, and he has been running the old Concord coach in connection with his regular stage. This Concord coach with four horses, laden outside and in with passengers and baggage in its proper place, is a sight that causes the people along the route to pause and look and relate stories of the old stage days, when most travel was done in the Concord coach. To this day it attracts more attention than the largest automobile that is known in this section.

Lou Hopkins of Lewiston is the guest of Norway friends.

Mrs. George K. Robinson is at Rockland for a month's visit.

Mrs. F. P. Brown and daughter, Miss A. F. Brown of Boston are visiting in Norway.

C. P. Barnes will be one of the speakers at the reunion of the Lisbon High School association, Labor day, where he was a teacher at one time.

Evelyn Chandler is visiting her grandparents in Bethel. Harold Chandler of Bethel accompanied his brother, Francis, to Norway to visit his parents.

SOUTH PARIS.

Classmates and Teachers Meet.

Henry A. Shorey, Jr., wife and daughter Elizabeth, of Bridgton have been visiting in South Paris and this vicinity, recently. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Morton at their camp on Big Concord pond for a couple of days.

Mrs. Shorey, nee Helen March, was a classmate of Mrs. Morton and Susan Porter at Farmington Normal school. After graduating all three ladies taught at that institution.

Henry A. Shorey, Jr., is the son of Henry A. Shorey, Sr., and is junior member of the firm of H. A. Shorey & Son, publishers of the Bridgton News. Mr. Shorey spent Monday night at Gray Birches as the guest of W. L. Gray and family. He made the ADVERTISER office a call Tuesday morning and returned to Bridgton as the newspaper duties and the office of deputy sheriff require him to be "in town" most of the time. Mrs. Shorey will remain here until the last of the week.

Carl Briggs went to Rangeley Saturday and played in the Rumford band.

Ralph Gray is working at Old Orchard at the store in charge of A. L. Clark.

Mrs. F. C. Brown of Portland is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stuart.

E. G. Hooper of St. Louis, Mo., and Alice Wentworth of Lynn, Mass., spent last week at W. O. Frothingham's.

The Ladies' Aid of the Baptist church will hold the last food sale next Friday afternoon, Aug. 20, at 3 o'clock.

Rev. and Mrs. T. N. Kewley will spend a two weeks vacation at Mrs. Kewley's home, Phillips. Ethelyn Bedy also accompanied them.

The Good Cheer society held a special meeting, Monday evening, and voted to furnish the dinner for the Loyal Legion at the Hamlin Centennial anniversary.

The Electric Light Co. are putting in a cement wall near the flume. There has been more or less trouble at this point caused by the water leaking but with this wall the difficulty will be overcome.

Uncle John Stevens of Elm Hill will get the cane offered by the Boston Post to the oldest citizen in town. Mr. Stevens was 92 years old last January. The cane is his unless an older person is found.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stevens have returned from Mechanic Falls and are living in the upstairs rent at Mrs. Stevens' parents', Mr. and Mrs. John Murch's, Mr. Stevens has been employed at F. A. Shurtleff & Co's., during the vacation.

Mrs. Nathan Chase of Ilion, N. Y., and daughter Priscilla, who have been spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Walker, left Thursday for Wells Beach to visit her sister, Mrs. Percy Rankin for a week when she will return to her home in New York. Eva E. Walker accompanied them to Wells Beach where she will spend a week's vacation.

B. C. Curtis Family Reunion and Birthday Party.

Some 34 members of this family recently gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Abbott, Wheeler street, South Paris, and held a re-union. All of the immediate relatives were present except a niece and nephew. It was the largest family gathering since the death of Mrs. B. C. Curtis about 23 years ago. The father, B. C. Curtis of West Paris, aged 73 years, who lives on a farm with his daughter, Mabel Curtis, was there and in his usual good health and spirits. The following members of the family were present:

S. Leslie Curtis and wife of Portland, who is a salesman for T. F. Foss & Sons, housefurnishers of that city; John Curtis, carpenter, of Auburn, wife and three sons, aged 19, 15 and 7 years; Mabel Curtis of West Paris; Ernest Benton Curtis, wife and four children of Paris Hill; Lora N. of West Paris; Chandler L. Curtis and wife, farmer, of Stearns Hill; twin sisters, Ina L. and Iza L., and Edna E.

A nephew of Mrs. Abbott, Ernest B. Curtis of Gorham, N. H., and a niece, Mrs. Ethel Wood of South Woodstock, were unable to be present. Mrs. Wood's two children represent the fourth generation.

The father, B. C. Curtis of West Paris, raised a family of 11 children. Lottie married George A. Abbott 18 years ago and it was on her 37th birthday that the re-union was held at her house. Mr. and Mrs. Abbott have two children, George Harold, 13 years old and James Harland who is 7. Lora N. married Robert E. Shaw of West Paris, and has one daughter.

The twin sisters, Ina L. Curtis married Charles A. Martin of West Paris and they have one son. He is in the grocery business in that village with Robert E. Shaw; and Iza L. married John L. Porter, a farmer of West Paris, and has a family of two daughters. Edna E. married Almond K. Emery and has one daughter. He is a Stearns Hill farmer.

Wm. H. Curtis, the oldest son, died 15 years ago the 30th of last March.

The tables were decorated with lovely flowers from her brother Leslie's garden in Portland. Dinner was served at 1 o'clock. Chicken, cold meats, salads, green peas, beans and cucumbers, fancy pies, tarts, etc. Just before the parting hour ice cream and cake were served by the sisters.

A group picture was taken of the Curtis family, which we hope to present to our readers in the near future.

Don't Experiment.

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Norway Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys.

If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Norway. Follow the advice of a Norway citizen and be cured yourself.

Mrs. Solon Moore, Tucker St., Norway, Me., says: "About five years ago I was troubled with kidney complaint, accompanied by attacks of rheumatism. My whole body seemed to be affected and during these spells the secretions from my kidneys were very unnatural. I used many remedies, but I received no benefit. I at last procured Doan's Kidney Pills from Stone's drug store and they proved to be an excellent remedy. I am pleased to give this preparation my highest endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Uncle Josh on Rural Free Delivery

Some people call me Joshua,
While others call me Josh.
And I'm willing they should call me
Anything they like, by gosh.
There is no post office near me,
It's about five miles away,
But I have my daily paper
And my letters every day.

Things have changed like time, I tell ye,
Since the old days I recall,
And the rapid strides of progress
Are surprising to us all.
Once it was that weekly papers,
They were few and far between,
And the dailies then were something
That we people hadn't seen.

But now we have a daily
And a magazine or two.
My wife takes several papers
And the children have a few.
We have those tormented post cards,
We have letters by the score,
And, by gosh, the whole kerboodle
Is delivered at the door.

At first I didn't think that I would like this R. F. D.
But I tell you what, it's proving
Quite a handy thing for me.
For now instead of hauling cream
Five miles or more to town,
I have my cream cans ready,
And the mail man takes them down.

Sometimes I need a grindstone
Or a hayfork or a churn,
Then perhaps sometimes we find we're out
Of kerosene to burn.
Instead of going after them
I telephone, you see,
And have the R. F. D. man
Brings the things around to me.

My wife thinks I should pay him
When he brings these things to me,
Now she can't seem to understand
That the rural free is free.
She says he ought to have his pay,
But I tell her that's all bosh.
When Uncle Sam says pay him,
Will be time enough, by gosh.

Our mail man's kind of cranky
'Bout the pennies in the box.
I guess he don't admire 'em
By the way the fellow talks.
By gosh he really tried to sell
Some postage stamps to me,
But I wa'n't obliged to buy 'em
So I didn't, don't you see.

What the mail man was a telling
May all be true no doubt,
He says he has a thunderin' job
A fishing pennies out.
He don't like licking postage stamps,
He hates the job like sin,
He'd a darned sight rather lick the man
That puts the pennies in.

I don't think I'll take the trouble
Of keeping stamps on hand.
The R. F. D. man wants me to,
But there's been no demand.
If Uncle Sam should pass a law
And say we must, by gosh
I'll then stock up on postage stamps.
Yours truly,
UNCLE JOSH.

A Reply to Mr. Buck.

After reading Mr. Buck's article in the ADVERTISER of August 6, I find two ideas which entirely coincide with my own. First, he admits that both his opponents have probably attended school; next he thinks that my article of a few weeks ago was not written by a young man. Improbable as these theories may appear, they are both true.

Mr. Buck's expressions of stinging(?) sarcasm ought to crown him with glory and I have no doubt that were it convenient for Dryden to relinguish his honors, our Norway writer would at once be proclaimed as "The Father of Criticism."

I do not exactly understand what is meant by the parents furnishing means for a trip to Washington. In all the secondary schools with which I have come in contact; the students earn a sufficient sum by presenting dramas and other suitable entertainments under the instruction of a competent teacher. Thus the money which would have been used for graduating exercises is appropriated instead for travelling purposes.

Another writer suggests a very unique commencement; no new gowns, no orchesta, no souviner programs, only singing and readings in which the under classes take part. He would bring graduation down to the level of a primary school entertainment, and yet he would call this a sane performance.

If education were not advancing every year we should should still be travelling in the same ruts as our ancestors, and even an ex-governor's speech can not set the children of today behind those of years ago.

Some of Mr. Buck's statements are rather difficult to understand, but we must rest content for, "how can the less the greater comprehend?" Hoping to hear other's views on this stirring subject. I am, with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

From an old Diary.

A clipping from our diary of Jan. 1, 1865, may be of interest to some who may read it.

"In Greenwood teaching school. This is a romantic country, endowed with poetry and mystery is mixed with wonder and beauty strangely combined.

"This is a cold winter and the snow is deep though I enjoy myself quite well.

"The death of Josie Davis makes a sad space in our school. Yet 'tis pleasant to see the young and beautiful pass early from this vale of tears and go to happiness and rest.

"A mournful class, a vacant seat
Tell us that one we loved to meet,
Will join our youthful throng no more
'Till all these changing scenes are o'er.
But in a bright and beautious land
She waits to give the welcome hand."

To think of times and seasons past, of flowers and leaves that are dead, of friends that were once alive and gay that now we can see no more, here to think that I too, like them must soon leave this state of existence and all that is lovely here, to think that there is a land where the pure in heart will meet again. O how vain life would be even there, if we failed to meet the loved of this.

"Life is real, life is earnest,'
And the grave is not its goal
Dust thou art, to dust returneth
Was not spoken of the soul."

This world is wide and much has to be done.

"Our moments fly on lightning's wings,
And life's uncertain too,
We've none to waste on foolish things
There's work enough to do."

The Automobile Nuisance.

That the automobile as driven by some "chauffeurs" is a public nuisance is apparent to every sane man, woman and child.

Many of the drivers have become so careless that it is dangerous to meet them on our narrow winding roads with any kind of a horse. They go with fearful speed and do not "toot" even where they cannot see the road five rods ahead of them.

But a few days ago two women were riding along on one of these crooked roads, that are lined with high bushes and trees. An automobile dashed round the curve and met them "square in the face."

The horse jumped, as any horse would that had any life, and came near throwing the women out. They were young women of "pluck" and used to handling horses otherwise the damage might have been serious.

Unless they quit racing through this neighborhood in the way they have this summer they will run against something before they know it. The people have been imposed upon long enough. They are not all brown paper folks here.

Horse teams have the first right to the roads, that is what they were made for, and the auto drivers ought to be thankful enough that they are allowed to ride over them at all, to use people decent at least.

Fifty years ago they wouldn't have been allowed on the country roads at all. They should be obliged to keep off the roads two days in the week, that would give every one a fair chance to go in safety.

We need to reverse an old familiar saying and put it this way: What can't be endured must be cured.

Goats as Trail Makers.

The brush eating instinct of the Angora goat is being successfully demonstrated on the Lassen National Forest in California, where they are cutting trails for fire guards through the brushy areas on the slopes of the mountains.

The animals, which number 3,000, have been divided into two bands and under the care of the herders are grazed within certain well defined areas so that their work may be concentrated on the brush within those limits. The result is that they have practically killed nearly all the brush in the course either by eating it up entirely, or by barking, as in the case of the heavy manzanita bushes. At the beginning of the experiment there was some doubt as to the goats' willingness to eat the manzanita, but it has been found that where there is little else they will just as readily attack it as any other bushes.

The grazing season was so late this year on the Lassen Forest that the goats did not begin operations until about the middle of June, but since then they have made rapid progress and the result promises to be a success from every point of view. The trails will first be opened and then kept free of sprouts by the goats, saving the Government considerable labor in cutting them out by hand as has been done heretofore, while the brushy forage which otherwise would have been wasted will support 3,000 goats very comfortably.

A SOUL IS SAVED

or the Inebriate is placed on the line of Salvation when the individual has taken the Keeley treatment. Those who backslide into error are those who do not place as high an estimate upon the Cure as they should, or likely have made up their minds that they are not quite ready to cease tampering with alcoholic drinks, but have a great desire to taste of it through curiosity, but have no craving for it whatever. They are unstable in mind with little real object in life because they have not set their aims high enough to absorb their mind, soul and body in the noble work of learning to know themselves and their relation to God. The burdens of life on the alcoholic line are easily and quickly removed from the individual patient, and he is restored to his normal condition in bodily vigor—mental powers and quiet nerves within a very few days' treatment.

The backslider or those that relapse are thoroughly cured every time they take a course of Keeley treatment, and after they have relapsed the second time it is fairly good evidence that they do not want to remain cured, or have not got brains enough to desire to live a sober life, or are ineligible for a Keeley Institute.

Those who sincerely desire to be cured and have had enough of drunkenness and its bad effect's, respect the Cure and do not relapse. The Keeley Cure solicit this latter specified class. 31-34

That Silly Little Fly.

That is what the old time reading book called her, and oh, what tears of tender sympathy we shed over her untimely fate, when the "cruel spider" "Dragged her up his winding stairs into his dismal den, Within his pretty parlor—but she ne'er came out again." Then she was the innocent, thoughtless victim of ferocious greed and cruelty, and we willingly forgave the inconvenience of her presence indoors as well as out, for the sake of her "pearl and silver wings" her eyes "as of the diamond bright," and her beautifully "crested head"—charms, which, although invisible to human eyes, we took upon the word of that prince of flatterers, Mr. Spider, whom we so heartily detested.

Whether the moral tacked to this affecting story performed the office for which it was intended by warning the young and silly human flies to "turn heart and ear and eye" from the insidious flatteries of wicked architects like him who "wove a subtile web in a little corner sly," is not for you or me to say. It formed a fitting finale to a cruel tragedy that wrung our tender infant hearts with a sympathetic pain that few and those only who have learned in the great school of life, to pity even if they cannot approve, are able to feel for the wayward and misguided ones of earth.

But that our elders even then had no share in our sentimental attitude was proved by the many ingenious devices by which the good housewife sought to lessen the numbers of that universal pest. They came in swarms, wiping their feet fresh from the barnyard refuse upon the face of the sleeping baby, upon grandpapa's bald head, and upon every fragment of food that the family put into their mouths. There was no way of keeping them out, as at that date door and window screens were an unheard of luxury, and once in, the only question was one of extermination.

One of the favorite homemade fly traps was a glass half full of soapsuds, the top covered with a round of bread spread with molasses upon the under side. A hole was cut in the middle of this cover, through which the tempted Fly was supposed to scent the coveted sweet, and once inside a tap of the housewife's finger shook the intruder into the foamy flood below.

Another that found special favor with stony hearted little boys was a couple of shingles joined together at the top, and suspended from the ceiling in a room much frequented by the pests. These shingles were coated with molasses on the inside and were brought together with a smart slap whenever a sufficient number of the troublesome insects were collected to make a wholesale slaughter worth while.

A hop vine over the dairy window sometimes served to keep that spot sacred to cleanliness free from insect depredations; and in one well remembered case, a feeble old grandmother, who had "outlived her usefulness as cook and household provider," combined business and pleasure by spending the long, idle summer days in spearing flies upon the window panes.

A universal want is sure sooner or later to create a supply, and even before the genius of man had devised the wire screen for open doors and windows, any number of ingenious devices for entrapping and destroying the fly were put upon the market. There were insect powders, warranted to produce a state of stupefaction during which the victims could be swept up by the dustpanful, and cremated in the kitchen stove. There were papers saturated with poison, so virulent that a saucer of water in which a fragment had been submerged was sure death to any thirsty fly that was tempted to sip the dangerous fluid; and latest and best, the treacherous "tanglefoot,"—a veritable quicksand for the feet of the unwary buzzer.

Our grandmothers detested the fly as a "dirty, troublesome critter," but what would the dear old souls have thought if they had known him as a carrier of contagion in a hundred terrible forms?

Now it is certainly bad enough to be "dirty and troublesome," to wake everybody up in the small hours of the morning by your untimely buzzing, and to make the noonday nap of the weary worker an impossibility by your impudent advances; to crawl over everybody and everything, and no matter how often repulsed return to the attack with fresh vigor. But when to all these venial sins you add the actual crime of carrying up on your filthy toes a million germs of disease, to be deposited upon every bit of bread or innocent looking cake that we put into our mouths, you have become a menace to society in general, and as such must be relentlessly hunted down and disposed of without mercy.

"All that a man has will he give for his life," and when that life is imperrilled by this once slightly regarded pest it is high time that every means should be resorted to in order to banish him from our homes and premises. Much has been done, and still much remains to do to protect ourselves from this disease bearing plague. It is even worth one's while to be called an "Old Betty" because we refuse the cup of tea in which a fly has met his death, or insist with wearisome iteration that Father and the Boys must and shall latch the screen door after them.

Give us all the air that screened windows and balconies can afford, but for our life and health's sake let us shut out especially from our dining and sleeping rooms, that worse than "silly little fly" or neglect to use the fly-flapper upon any stray one of the species that ventures where he has no business to be and thus tempts his fate as recklessly as that flattered insect of our childhood, who found a grave in the maw of the "cruel spider" who lured her into the "Prettiest little parlor that ever you did spy," and made her pay for that venture with her life.

OTISFIELD.

Silas Scribner has received the Boston Post cane. He is 87 years and 7 months old and has always lived in town, on the farm he now owns. He is much pleased with it.

First Thaw's friends argue that he is insane and Jerome for the state argues that he isn't. Then, after Thaw is acquitted of murder on the ground of insanity, his friends turn around and try to prove that he is sane and Jerome also turns a somersault and contends that he is insane. Truly a remarkable thing is law. Thaw was retired to the Matteawan asylum.

The Superintendent of Schools of the town of Waterford gives notice for all the pupils who wish to avail themselves of a chance to enter high school and having the tuition paid by the town, to meet at the school house at Waterford Flat, Wednesday, Sept. 1st at 9 o'clock a. m. for examination.

Summer Footwear.

In and Out of Doors.

If there is one place where the average person loves to linger, it is the shoeshop, where all of the beautiful things in shoes, slippers and boots are to be had.

One finds in the shops now the dearest little sandals with dainty ribbons to tie around the ankles for wear at the seashore. These prevent the feet from being hurt by the pebbles and shells on the Beach. For house wear there are high-heeled pumps, and these come in almost every color and material possible. Bronze shoes, which were so greatly sought after in the early spring and summer, are still popular. Soft suedes are pretty and in this kind of a pump or shoe one is better able to match novelty colors.

Canvas ties and pumps are cooling to the feet, and have the feel of a kid glove; they are just the thing to wear with white linen dresses and suits and lingerie gowns. The material comes made up in Oxford ties and pumps, with or without ankle strap.

The athletic girl must be particular to get the right boot to wear for her different outing sports. She must have the regular riding boots for her mad gallop across the country; for mountain climbing; besides her correct wearing apparel and alpine stick, she should provide herself with stout boots that lace up the leg; for tennis the flat-heeled white canvas, with rubber sole; and if she is stopping at a hotel, she must have a varied assortment of indoor footwear—a pair of pumps (white and black), oxford ties, dancing slippers and dainty little bedroom flats or mules. This much in footwear is a necessity. In playing golf it should always be borne in mind that good, heavy, tightly-laced boots should be worn, as so many girls who have foolishly essayed to play golf in slippers, have had as a result sprained and even broken ankles.

Footwear does not necessarily have to match the stockings any more; vivid contrasts are frequently introduced. Colored stockings of all kinds are in vogue in Paris. They do not match the boots either. More frequently they are purchased with a view to matching the gloves, hat or dress trimmings, or the parasol, or the gown itself. Black pumps and white, pale blue, pink, lavender, raspberry red colored stockings are seen. White pumps and slippers are attractive when worn with green stockings, parasol and gloves matching. An ideally artistic costume was recently worn by a woman who has just returned from Paris. Her dress was white French pique, made in one-piece coat style. Her hat, veil, stockings, gloves, handbag and parasol matched, and were of that beautiful new shade which is a mixture of purple and blue—pervenche. Her shoes were white. A new motif in hosiery is a stocking of two materials, the two different colors forming a sufficient contrast to bring out the striped effect. This stocking is striped its entire length in half-inch stipes. Some of the silk stockings are so manufactured that they look like plain linen mesh.

The short-vamped shoe is one of the smartest one can buy, and, with a French heel, it certainly makes the feet look smart, not to say small. Strange to relate, there is much more room in a shoe of this make than in shoes that appear much bigger. Many of the mountain-climbers, or rather the people who live in summer on the mountain sides in bungalows, wear sandals.

The pumps, with the dainty little ankle straps, have proven such a comfort that they are becoming more and more popular. They save the rubbing up and down at the heel, which plain pumps invariably do.

A high novelty in footwear is the white shoe or slipper, with gold, red or green heels, and lacings to match. Oxford ties are good style, and if your ankle is not particularly strong it is much better to give it the support of a tie rather than to wear pumps.

Slippers bows point sharply upward rather than downward. Dark velvet bows are frequently seen on light slippers. A dull, greenish gray kid slipper sometimes has a bow of maroon velvet, drawn through a silver buckle. This bow should be arranged so that the two ends of the velvet show. Various shades of violet velvet bows are favorites.

French people still lean to the high boot. The shoes, like the gowns of today, represent searching and delving into past historical periods, and the adaptation of modes of other days. Some of the smart pumps have heels that are not so extremely high, and a beautiful buckle of silver or some other bright metal. The French continue to favor the very high boot of the gaiter variety, that is the upper portion of the boot should be built exactly like a gaiter, and buttoned from the outside of the instep. Leather foxing appears on the toe and heel.

Novelties in slippers include the "mule" which, according to the French idea, is only another title for a dressy slipper with extremely high heel. With us it means a boudoir slipper, or half slipper, as it consists of the sole, heeled or flat, with only the vamp portion, into which one thrusts the toes and slips along with lifting the heel of the foot.

Bath slippers of raffia are novelties. They are woven in open design and lined and trimmed in a color to match the bath robe.

Admission to Soldiers' Home.

To be admitted to the national home for disabled soldiers, it is necessary that one have an honorable discharge from the service of the United States during a war in which he was engaged, and to be suffering from a disability which prevents him from earning his living by labor.

Applicants must stipulate and agree to abide by all the rules and regulations made by the board of managers or by its order to perform all the duties required by them, and to obey all lawful orders of the officers of the home.

By the law authorizing the home, the members are made subject to the rules and articles of war, and will be governed thereby in the same manner as if they were in the army of the United States.

A soldier or sailor must forward with his application for admission, his discharge paper, and when he is a pensioner, his pension certificate, and if he has been a member of a State home, he must be honorably discharged from that home for a period of at least six months before his application will be considered. If the original discharge does not exist, a copy of the discharge, certified by the war or navy departments or by the adjutant general of the State, must accompany the application.

There are branches of the national home at Dayton, O.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Togus, Me.; Hampton, Va.; Leavenworth, Kan.; Santa Monica, Cal.; Marion, Ind.; Danvill, Ill.; Johnson City, Tenn.; and Hot Springs, S. D. The president of the board of managers is Major W. Wadsworth, 346 Broadway, New York.

C. A. Austin of Turner has been doing some threshing in this vicinity.

Iva Gardner has been to Dixfield for a visit to her brother, Guy O. Gardner.

The brush shop has been shut down for a week for the annual overhauling and repairs.

H. H. Hall of New York City has arrived at the Saints Rest for his summer vacation.

Hon. John D. Long and family of Hingham Mass., have arrived at his summer home on North Hill.

Percy Cole and family of Rumford have been with Mr. Cole's parents, Virgil Cole and wife for a short time.

Principal H. G. Clement and family of North Bridgton are with Mrs. Clement's parents, C. M. Irish and wife.

Mrs. Josie Drummond and son of Waterville has arrived at the home of Mrs. Drummoed's parents, C. H. Prince and wife.

Josie Shaw has been taking a two week's vacation from her duties at the post office. Storer Cole is acting as assistant.

Mrs. R. C. Bradford and daughter of Portland have been at the home of Mrs. Bradford's mother, Mrs. Lucy Bridgham.

Prince and Louise Drummond of Waterville arrived at the home of their grandparents, C. H. Prince and wife for a short visit.

The Buckfield High School ball team was defeated twice by the Summer Hill boys and then the Summers were beaten by a picked up team of local players in a five inning game.

A. A. Towne and family of Norway spent a few days with Mrs. Mary Irish of River Street. Mr. Towne was principal of the high school here during the year 1908-09 and is now principal of the high school at Ashland.

At a special meeting of the village corporation held at the school house it was voted to instruct the assessors to locate a hydrant at some point to protect the plant of the Maine Fruit Product company and also voted to lay one hundred feet of four inch pipe to connect hydrant with the main pipe at a cost not to exceed fifty dollars.

Streaked Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Taylor were at home from Lewiston, Sunday.

Eola Swallow and Madeline Whitman were at South Paris and Norway, Friday.

Mrs. Emma Turner fell down stairs recently and injured herself quite badly.

Eola Swallow of North Buckfield, was the guest of Madeline Whitman, last week.

Frank Record has finished work for Lorena Winslow and has gone to Livermore.

WEST PARIS.

Farm Building Burned.

In the shower of Friday evening the 13th lightening struck the barn of Charles Dudley on Stearns' Hill, some three miles from this place, killing three horses and setting fire to the building. So rapidly did the flames spread that thirteen cows perished in the flames as did the hogs and young stock. Mr. Dudley had just finished haying and the large barn was full of hay.

His farming tools were also all stored in the building and were lost. Mr. Dudley was at South Paris at the time, there being no one at home except Mrs. Dudley and a little son, and so very little indeed was saved. Mr. Dudley has been one of the most prosperous farmers in the town of Paris. His loss was heavy as his buildings were all modern improvements.

It is announced that the net debt of the United States just now is a round billion dollars, but it is also stated that the public and private wealth of the country is 120 times more than the debt. No need to worry.

There seems to be a certainty that Rumford is to lose the post-card manufacturing industry. When the bids for the contract were opened in Washington, this month, it was found that the Oxford paper mill of Rumford, which took the contract at its last award, had not even bid, and this probably means that it will be moved elsewhere when the contract is finally awarded by the government.

Why Hay is Graded Low.

The rules of the National Hay association recognizes twenty-three grades of hay, which seems to fall into five classes:

Timothy, clover, mixed timothy and clover, wild grasses, and alfalfa.

Choice timothy hay must be sound, properly cured, of bright natural color, not mixed with more than one-twentieth of other grasses, and well baled. Lower grades of timothy are Nos. 1, 2, and 3, and "no grade."

Clover hay has two grades, Nos. 1, and 2. No. 1 clover must be medium clover, sound, properly cured, not mixed with more than one-twentieth of other grasses, and well baled.

Choice alfalfa hay must be reasonably fine leafy alfalfa of bright green color, properly cured, sound, sweet, and well baled. Other grades of alfalfa are Nos. 1, 2, and 3, and "no grade."

A large percentage of the timothy on the market is graded below No. 1. The reasons are that many meadows are cut for years, until they become weedy and mixed with other grasses, and that the hay is often cut too late, so that it loses the bright natural color and palatability. If the farmer would send to market nothing but what the feeder considers good he would get a higher price.

Timothy has the lead, especially among city feeders, because it is not only nutritious but palatable and nonlaxative, and the horse is not likely to overfeed. Nevertheless, other kinds of hay would often prove better for the feeder. Alfalfa, for instance, has high muscle-building qualities and is especially valuable for draft horses. It is highly relished, however, and the horse may overfeed. Doubtless the feeder will in time learn that hay from legumes has great value when properly used.

Meantime the farmer is obliged to include clover and other legumes in his rotation in order to maintain the fertility of his land. In regard to good rotations the United States department of agriculture is glad to give advice.

In any case, the farmer who sells hay should seek to produce the highest grade by keeping his meadows pure and by proper methods of cutting, curing, and stacking. Further points may be found in Farmers' Bulletin 362, "Conditions Affecting the Value of Market Hay," which may be obtained free from the United States department of agriculture.

EAST WATERFORD.

At Greenfields.

Greenfields is the very appropriate name of one of the most delightful rural localities in Oxford county. It is on the northeasterly border of Waterford, high up above the valley of Crooked river. It is the seat of the McIntire family, consisting of Justin E. McIntire,, his sons, Leslie E. and Bertrand C. McIntire, and grandson, Clayton D. McIntire, each settled in a handsome, commodious, separate home situated in the midst of fertile fields on a broad ridge declining gently from the summit for more than half a mile to a level intervale of rich land, surrounded by dense woods.

Thursday, Aug. 12th, was the day appointed for the monthly meeting of the Waterford and Norway Cow-testing Association, the first of its kind organized in Maine. It is composed of many of the most intelligent and progressive farmers in the two towns who are especially interested in the business of breeding of choice dairy stock and are butter makers or contributors of cream to the famous creameries at Waterford, South Paris or others in surrounding towns.

By the happy thought and generous invitation of Leslie E. McIntire, Worthy Lecturer of Bear Mountain Grange, South Waterford, that lively body of Patrons had fixed upon the 12th for their annual Field day.

The morning was cool and comfortable; the roads were dry and dusty, but they all seemed to lead to Greenfields, and during the early hours a procession of single and double teams were constantly arriving with their loads of happy men, women and children, picnic baskets, etc., until about 500 of the good people of Waterford, Norway, Albany, Stoneham, Lovell, Sweden, Harrison and Oxford were parading around the central objective point, the L. E. McIntire home, and resting in the shade of the big maple and orchard trees.

Some things that were done at the meeting are told on page 7 of this paper.

In the afternoon Prof. Campbell gave a test in practical demonstrations of the chief points of the physical structure of dairy animals, the most important being in males, those which indicate power of transmission of best traits in breeding, to their progeny, and in females the indications of large milk production and capacity for healthy reproduction of their young. Three animals of Mr. McIntire's fine herd of Holstein-Frisian cattle were the subjects of the illustrated lecture in demonstration by Prof. Campbell, in which he exhibited acute knowledge of the science of breeding dairy animals.

While the visiting crowd dined a la picnic from their own well stocked baskets, they were indebted to the generosity of Brother and Sister McIntire and family for a bountiful supply of coffee and many other hospitalities. A closing incident of the festival of the day was a speech by L. E. McIntire, proposing three cheers for the Mackietonquor brass band which were given with much enthusiasm.

Mrs. Dana Berry is gaining slowly.

Ed Skinner called on C. H. Merrill recently.

W. P. Knightly visited Howard Knightly last week.

Frank Hobbs of Lynn Mass., is visiting his aunt, Alice Knightly.

FRYEBURG.

Shooting and Robbery.

Wednesday evening about 8 o'clock while the Highland Park stage driver was driving along the Highland Park road about 2½ miles from the village he was met by some robbers.

They ordered him to stop but instead of stopping he whipped up his horses and escaped the robbers, but they fired three shots after him. None took effect.

On Friday evening about the same time and place the robbers held up the driver and got what money he had. He had only $2 to get.

The loss was reported to the sheriff and Saturday morning he and ten men went down and hunted the woods but could not find the robbers.

The sheriff has been watching in the vicinity of Highland Park nights.

FRYEBURG CENTER.

Highwaymen Near Highland Park.

Last Friday night as Walter Willey of Menotomy, was coming from Fryeburg village home with a hay rack, between the road that goes to Highland Park and the one that turns off to Menotomy, he was stopped by two masked men one in front of his horse and the other demanding his money at the point of a pistol. He gave up his money, not quite three dollars, hurried to Mr. Kenerson's and armed, he and Mr. Kenerson and hired man went back but could find nothing of them.

A few nights before this, the hired man at Highland Park was going home, after leaving the main road to Highland Park he was fired at several times, one shot passing through the carriage and two, near his head, but whipping up his horse escaped. The authorities searched the Camp grounds, where there are many unoccupied houses, but could find no traces of having been occupied. One family are camping on the grounds at present.

Lyman Hobbs has quite a number of summer guests.

Lee Harnden of East Fryeburg, a music teacher in Massachusetts, visited at E. D. Abbott's and Fred Kenerson's, last week.

Thomas McIntire was in the neighborhood last week and attended Pomona, I. O. O. F., and Grange and called on old friends.

The drought is severest here for years On high land the gardens are dying, no rain of any consequence for weeks, no thunder showers up to date.

SOUTH HARRISON.

Caned by the Boston Post.

The Boston Post sent a fine ebony, 14 karat gold headed cane to the Chairman of the board of selectmen to be presented with its compliments to the oldest citizen of Harrison on Tuesday evening, Aug. 10, the time set for the presentation, a goodly number of the friends gathered at the residence of Josiah Strout as the oldest citizen of Harrison is Mr. Strout's father, Benjamin Strout, the subject of this sketch.

The presentation was made by Q. M. Chute, chairman of the board of selectmen, in a neat little speech. Mr. Strout received the cane and although somewhat surprised he replied, thanking the donor for same.

This cane is to be transmitted to the next oldest citizen upon the death of Mr. Strout, which we all hope will not be for many years.

Mr. Strout was born in Raymond, Nov. 30, 1819. He will be 90 years old on Nov. 30, 1909. About 1839 he married Susan Spiller of Raymond. She died 20 years ago. By this wife he had eight children, five of whom are still living, Mrs. J. Frank Gerry of Raymond, Bela of Minot, S. D. of South Portland, Mrs. Berry and Josiah Strout of Harrison; and there are 12 grandchildren living.

Mr. Strout came to Harrison from Raymond fifty-two years ago. His occupation all these years was farming, carpentry and stone work. For one-half hour or more he can out mow any man in this section. He has worked in the hay field during haying and only a few days ago worked all day turning and spreading oats.

He now has gone to Raymond to attend the Strout reunion which comes on Thursday, Aug. 19.

John O. Hartford commenced work for Scribner Bros., Monday.

Scribner Bros., have a large crew at work sawing and fitting lumber for boxes.

J. O. Ross' horses ran away Monday while collecting cream and it looked one time as though there would be some spilled cream and other damages. They started at H. A. Libby's and ran down the hill toward Harrison at a lively gait. At the foot of the hill there was quite a rise and they slackened their pace so that Mrs. Will Edson, who was in her yard, ran into the road and stopped them. She displayed pluck and courage in doing so as the cause of the runaway was the toppling over onto one of the horses of a large umbrella, which was still between them when Mrs. Edson stopped them and at which one began to kick, but she clung to them until James Edson and Guy Andrews came to the rescue. No damage was done.

WELCHVILLE.

Mrs. Emma Foster of Mechanic Falls is visiting with her brother, J. L. Tobie.

Maud Pike from Norway is visiting with her grandmother, Mrs. Horace Bennett.

Mohawks Defeated Again.

Mohawks scored their last run in the eighth when Libby was passed to first on ball; he advanced to second on Bradbury's neat sacrifice, which Rawson scooped up and passed on a line to Gammon; True sent the runner home on a hard hit ball into left field, but died when Lanan caught him sneaking third. There was nothing more doing for any body, as everything worked smooth and batters on both sides were retired in regular order until the end. The score:

Summary:—Two base hits Harrison, Clason, True, Leith; double play, Jordan to Bradbury to Gooding. Sacrifice hit Bradbury. Stolen base Higgins, Bradbury. Struck out by Leith 6, by Libby 1. Bases on balls off Leith 1, pitched ball Higgins, by Leith 1. Left on bases Radcliffe 3, Mohawks 4. Earned runs Radcliffe 1. Umpire, Flavin of Portland. Time 40 minutes. Scorer, Charlie.

Notes.

Umpire Flavin of Portland opened the game in regular league style by announcing the name of the contesting clubs and the opposing batteries.

Jimmy Farnum, who occupied right pasture for Radcliffe, was the busy man of the afternoon. That star catch in the far corner of his territory when every sack was occupied by an Indian. He made every Norway fan shout for joy. There is nothing in town too good for Jimmy now, and he is solid with every Radcliffe supporter.

Frank Lanan nailed True while stealing third and Higgins who attempted to sneak second on perfect throws. Any use to grab bases, gentlemen, when "smiling Frank" has the ball. His throw is strong and aim sure.

Harley Rawson, the new third baseman, looks good everywhere. The way he handled Jordan's slow rolling ball for a put out to Gammon at first was quick fielding.

"Uncle" Bill bored Higgins of the Mohawks on the ankle the first time he batter appeared. Right-fielder Higgins gave a characteristic Indian dance for several minutes and secured a runner to relieve him on bases. No doubt the clip hurt but the two-step that followed was too funny for anything.

The Indians' third baseman True is a new one here. His work in that position, his hitting and base running is strong and stamps on this clever fellow a fast ball player's trade-mark.

The Mohawks are not such a collection of fierce lot of Indian warriors as their name would indicate. As ball players they certainly play the game for keeps and fight till the last red-skin is slain, but there are no ambush fights or midnight surprises in their warfare. Everything is done in the open and clean cut, start to finish. They have won friends in Norway through their quiet manners and gentlemanly conduct, so here's wish for success and good luck in future games.

Radcliffe thus far has played 16 games, lost but two and tied one. "Uncle" Bill has pitched 15 games including the tie and has dropped but one contest, that with Mechanic Falls, Aug. 7. "Uncle" Bill, Harrison, Tim Gammon, Fred Lafrance and "Uncle" William are the only players who have been in every engagement. Frank Lanan is next best having played in all but one. "Cy" Young and Will King have been in the line-up thirteen times. "Ikey" Lowell and Clason are on record in ten games.

"Kid" Harrison picked the lucky four leaf clover before this game. Two singles and a two-bagger on four times at isn't such a bad guess after all for a youngster. A put out and three assists in five fielding chances is another good looking proposition. All of these added on to a couple of scores puts "Photograph Joe" into some class as a professional ball handler.

"Uncle" Bill's brother, David Leith of Lawrence, Mass., was an interested spectator during this event. He is of the opinion that we have some good farmers up this way, capable of bringing out fairly good sized potatoes even during a drought. Mr. Leith is a hale and hearty fellow, weighing only a few pounds less than his base ball brother and just as good natured.

NORTH PARIS.

Another Lawn Party.

The Ladies of the Willing Worker Club gave another successful lawn party on the evening of Aug. 12th. Socially it was a grand success. A good crowd came from West Paris and entered into the field games with much zest and pleasure. The city guests were out in good attendance and seemed to enjoy the contests and games with the more staid village people.

It is doubtful as to another lawn party as the nights are so cold at this season of the year. The Club intends to give indoor entertainments all through the winter and extends a hearty welcome to all who will attend.

Later in the season a musical treat will be in store for all interested in music.

The Willing Workers intend to make it lively among the two villages.

OTISFIELD.

Marguerite Smith is visiting friends in Norway.

O. N. Edwards of new Gloucester was in town, Saturday.

Elmer Latulip has some very fine bit hounds, four months old.

S. C. Maxfield and family of Sebago Lake visited at Eugene Edwards' last week.

Mrs. E. W. Thurston and Sarah Thurston of Hyannis, Neb., have been visiting relatives and friends in this place, recently.

The Otisfield Pomona Grangers will have their meeting at Spurrs Corner in the new Grange Hall, Aug. 11th. There were 16 new candidates joined. A fine dinner was served and several from other granges were invited. Mr. Libby, the new secretary, was present, from Auburn.

Notes.

Umpire Flavin of Portland opened the game in regular league style by announcing the name of the contesting clubs and the opposing batteries.

Jimmy Farnum, who occupied the right pasture for Radcliffe, was the hero of the afternoon. That star catch in the far corner of his territory when every sack was occupied by an Indian just made every Norway fan shout for joy. There is nothing in town too good for Jimmy now, and he is solid with every Radcliffe supporter.

Frank Lanan nailed True while stealing third and Higgins who attempted to sneak second on perfect throws. No use to grab bases, gentlemen, when "smiling Frank" has the ball. His arm is strong and aim sure.

Harley Rawson, the new third baseman, looks good everywhere. The way he handled Jordan's slow rolling bunt for a put out to Gammon at first was quick fielding.

"Uncle" Bill bored Higgins of the Mohawks on the ankle the first time this batter appeared. Right-fielder Higgins gave a characteristic Indian dance for several minutes and secured a runner to relieve him on bases. No doubt the clip hurt but the two-step that followed was too funny for anything.

The Indians' third baseman True is a new one here. His work in that position, his hitting and base running is strong and stamps on this clever fellow a fast ball player's trade-mark.

The Mohawks are not such a cruel, fierce lot of Indian warriors as their name would indicate. As ball players they certainly play the game for blood and fight till the last red-skin is slain, but there are no ambush fights or midnight surprises in their warfare. Everything is done in the open and clean from start to finish. They have won friends in Norway through their quiet manners and gentlemanly conduct, so here is a wish for success and good luck in future games.

Radcliffe thus far has played 16 games, lost but two and tied one. "Uncle" Bill has pitched 15 games including the tie, and has dropped but one contest, that with Mechanic Falls, Aug. 7. "Kid" Harrison, Tim Gammon, Fred Lafrance and "Uncle" William are the only players who have been in every engagement. Frank Lanan is next best having played in all but one. "Cy" Young and Walter King have been in the line-up thirteen times. "Ikey" Lowell and Clason are on record in ten games.

"Kid" Harrison picked the lucky four leaf clover before this game. Two singles and a two-bagger on four times up isn't such a bad guess after all for the youngster. A put out and three assists in five fielding chances is another good looking proposition. All of these added on to a couple of scores puts "Phonograph Joe" into some class as a practical ball handler.

"Uncle" Bill's brother, David Leith, of Lawrence, Mass., was an interested spectator during this event. He is of the opinion that we have some smart farmers up this way, capable of hoeing out fairly good sized potatoes even during a drought. Mr. Leith is a hale and hearty fellow, weighing only a few pounds less than his base ball brother and just as good natured.

NORTH PARIS.

Another Lawn Party.

The Ladies of the Willing Workers Club gave another successful lawn party on the evening of Aug. 12th. Socially it was a grand success. A good crowd came from West Paris and entered in the field games with much zest and pleasure. The city guests were out in good attendance and seemed to enjoy the country games with the more staid village people.

It is doubtful as to another lawn party the nights are so cold at this season, but the Club intends to give indoor social times all through the winter and extends a hearty welcome to all who will attend.

Later in the season a musical treat will be in store for all interested in music.

The Willing Workers intend to make it lively among the two villages.

PIGEON HILL.

Profitable Lectures.

Professors from the University of Maine have given us two very instructive and profitable sessions and lectures.

On the 4th Prof. P. A. Campbell and Assistant J. R. Rice gave an interesting lecture on Animal Industry and remarks by E. P. Mayo, Editor of Turf, Farm and Home, on hogs, his particular friends he said. Several farmers asked questions and spoke of their experience.

On the 11th, at the Morey farm, Hon. L. A. Merrill, State Dairy Instructor, and Assistant R. W. Redman, Prof. P. A. Campbell, J. R. Rice and V. R. Gardener, professor of horticulture, gave lectures which were profitable to the large gathering of farmers present.

Prof. Campbell exemplified the score card on cows and Prof. Gardner gave an instructive address on the destruction of moths, worms and bugs, and demonstrated spraying.,

Many thanks were given Mr. and Mrs. Morey for their pleasant entertainment and bountiful dinner of sandwiches, doughnuts, cheese, coffee, lemonade, bananas, pears and cigars in abundance for all. Their full blood stock of Jerseys, 30 head, were exhibited in the barn, with nearly all kinds of new improved farm machinery.

EAST FRYEBURG.

Col. Erastus Dyer.

The funeral of the late Colonel Erastus H. Dyer of Portland was held at East Fryeburg Tuesday afternoon. The services were attended by relatives and friends from Portland and by Baldwin people, who were old friends of the deceased. Rev. Oscar W. Peterson of Cornish officiated and the pall bearers included George F. Morse and Hon. M. P. Frank of Portland; Nathan Sanborn, David P. Richardson and Joseph P. Chadborune of East Baldwin. Col. Dyer, who had not been in good health, died at the Congress Square hotel Portland on Saturday.

Col. Dyer was born in Baldwin, Jan. 26, 1836, being the son of Isaac and Amanada Dyer, his father being the man whose protest, that which became known as the "petition of Isaac Dyer and 42 others," formed a feature in the Harrison and Tyler campaign. Col. Dyer was born with the spirit of adventure and about 41 years ago he emigrated West, going first to Minneapolis where he engaged in the lumber business at a time when the town was new and when the demand for lumber was at its height.

In 1860 he became interested in oil and took up his position in Titusville, Pa., where he sunk a well at a cost of some $10,000, which proved to be dry. Later he sunk another and this proved to be as valuable as the other was worthless and in one year he and his partner divided $50,000. Col. Dyer prospected around in the nearby sections and sunk oil wells in different parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, West Virginia and the north-eastern part of Kentucky.

Some years ago, however, he closed out most of his holdings and has been practically retired since then. Col. Dyer has been a summer visitor to Portland ever since he went to the oil regions the first time and out of 40 years has missed coming only three summers. His permanent home for some years past has been in Marietta, Ohio.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Ellen R. Lord of Alfred; one brother, Hon. Isaac W. Dyer of this city, and one half-brother, Gen. C. P. Mattocks.

Hyde Park, Mass., Principal Norway Born.

George W. Earle, the newly elected principal of the Hyde Park High School, is a native of this town. He was the son of Wm. D. and Elizabeth J. Earle and was born on the farm now occupied by Fred Grover. His early life was spent in this town. He fitted for college at the Maine Wesleyan Seminary and graduated from Dartmouth college in the class of 1890. For the past fifteen years he has been closely identified with school work, having been situated at Mt. Desert and Norridgwock, Me., and Brimfield and Somerville, Mass. He is eminently fitted for the position he now occupies and his friends in this yicinity are glad to know of his steady advancement.

Helen Noyes gave a clam chowder dinner with pastry, cake, fruit and other good things to her nephew and nieces and their children, and a few invited friends Friday noon, at Central Park. Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Basset, who were of the party, gave a treat of ice cream.. It was a fine dinner and a fine place to eat it.

Willis I. Work has had fits occasionally for several years, but of late he has not been as well, and has had them on the street. He falls where he has them. The people kindly take him to his boarding place or care for him. He had one and fell in the street near H. J. Bangs' Friday. and Skillngs' express team took him to his boarding place.

Mrs. Alma Pendexter Hayden is superintendent of the Industrial School at Rochester, N. Y. She is writing some clever poems which have recently appeared in current magazines. She is the author of a charming book of verse. The Rochester paper says of her work:—Mrs. Hayden came to Rochester about a year and a half ago to take charge of the Industrial School on Exchange street, and has been a practical and efficient superintendent.

Harry L. Burnham of Philadelphia, who lives by the lake-side summers, is considerable of a fisherman. In conversation with him the other day, he says it is seldom that he fishes without getting fish and sometimes having extra good luck. The other day he and a party went out and got 20 fish, 18 bass and 2 fair sized pickerel, they used frogs and shiners for bait. The largest bass weighed four pounds and four others weighed two pounds each. In the party were Mr. Summers of Newton, Mass., Eugene L. Drake of Providence, R. I., and Walter Vincent of New York.

Happenings of 1889.

Lake Carnival.

"The Carnival on the lake Saturday night was a big success. The weather is a great element of success in such enterprises and a better night could not have been selected. There was no wind and the heavens were shut in by c'ouds which threatened rain and the darkness of the firmament was immense. It was a capital night for such festivities.

"The steamers "Henrietta," Capt. Horace Cole commanding, and "Fleeta" with Capt. Elias Woodsum and the Norway Band aerved as tugs and towed our naval display about the Lake.

"The train of lighted boats was made up above the Crockett Bridge and made a grand tour of the lake going up on the east shore and returning on the west. The train was very prettily illumined and decorated. It was a novel sight.

"The cottages were all illuminated, each cottage seemed to try to outdo his neighbor. Dr. Jone's, Harry Lane's, and Freeland Howe's cottages were all near together and the illuminations and bond fires were fastened in the trees.

"The large bonfires on Elhanan Tubb's ridge showed off to good advantage and could be seen for miles.

"Goat Island was the center of a big display. Long lines of "burning incense" were strung around and over the eminence, with bond fires on the ridge at the rear of the cottage. Goat Island's revolving light had the additional attraction of revolving lanterns, a fire balloon was sent up many hundred feet, colored lights of different kinds were burnt and things looked very crimson by spells.

"At Twin Island Club House "Burning pats of incense" were placed a few feet apart over the Island which gave it a weird appearance. Bass Island Club House was a center of decorations with its display of fireworks, sky-rockets etc.

"Cole's Island was handsomely illuminated and was plainly seen from Frosts Corner.

"The Cottages saluted the phantom ships as they passed cannons were fired, red lights burned, and tin horns and trumpets blown. It was a triumphant march of a harmless fire fiend.

"On the west side, the Morse, True and Smith cottages with the camp ground of S. H. Hasdeu and Gibson Grove were illuminated similar to those on the sast shore.

"Pine Lodge situated in the pine grove of James Crockett was most brilliantly attired. Their heavy cannon spoke with a determined voice.

"Crowds of people visited Frost's Corner and the road leading to the Corner was packed with teams and foot passengers. Many came from a distance, especially the summer visitors in this section to witness the display. The view from Pikes Hill was magnificient. "All the water going crafts were used in some way that evening. The chain of burning lights on the water was fine."

"John Devine has returned to our village and will resume work at the tannery.

"Walter Mann and family of Milton are at Lake View Cottage for a few weeks.

"Frank Starbird of Oxford is at work at C. S. Tucker's Harness shop.

"Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harris are visiting at her mother's, Mrs. L. A. Houghton's.

"George P. Downing has closed his Mechanic Falls branch store and is to do all his business from his Norway shop.

"Call and see the real electric door bell at J. C. Crocker's waranted to work every time.

"I. Elden Hall is grand juror and D. S. Sanborn and H. I. Hall traverse juror from this town for the October term of court.

"Orchard street is to be extended to connect with the street at Oscar Bennetts, W. H. Warren is to build it.

"Mrs. A. P. Canwell while fishing on Norway Lake last Tuesday, lost her watch valued at $40. The oar caught the chain wrenching it from its fastenining.

"John H. Henan of South Boston Mass., who is summering at his aunts, Mrs. E. R. Frosts of Erosts Hill, is visiting at his cousins, Mrs. A. F. Canwell's.

"Mrs. Leafy Rich of Lawrence Mass., visited at C. B. Cummings the past week. She is 82 years old and came from Lawrence also. She is a very smart lady of her years.

"E. H. Brown's sunflower is now twelve feet and five inches. Mr. Brown has also a common sweet corn stalk that is ten feet and six inches high.

"E. M. Rowe invites the members of the Universalist Sunday School and Ladies circle to meet at his home next Tuesday afternoon. There will be a picnic supper. O. M. Cummings will carry all who wish to go for 15 cents starting at 1.30 and 3 O'clock from the corner of Main and Paris streets.

"Rev. O. S. Pillsbury former pastor of the Methodist church occupied the pulpit and the sermon preached was excellent.

"Game of base ball on Main street opposite the Opera House every afternoon. Game called at 2 o'clock, admission free. The hat will be passed around to take up a collection in case glass is broken out of the windows. The traveling public are requested to use the side streets from 2 to 4 o'clock so as not to disturb the ball players and too, by so doing there will be less danger of getting hurt by their teams being frightened. No postponement on account of the weather.

"A reunion of the Frost family was enjoyed at Roswell Frost's on Frosts Hill, Saturday. Those present were Mrs. Lucy Frost; Roswell Frost, and family; Mrs. J. N. Everett and family; Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. James Danforth son and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hall; Louise and Nellie Smith of Boston; Mr. Mrs. Henry Frost of Independence, Kansas; Nathaniel Frost and Eva Frost of Oxford; Mr. and Mrs. Newell Linnell of Auburn; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Cummings and family; Mrs. Charlotte Cummings and son; Theron Cummings, Albany; Mrs. Edwin Andrews and of Waterford; David Frost esquire and Mrs. Siba Gammon.

"Steve Cummings and wife and D. A. Jordan and wife and son started for Hanover last Wednesday. They will stop at Cummings Camp.

"Your worthy correspondent from Lockes's Mills 'Jolly old soul is he,' made a flying trip to Bethel one day last week,' So it seems that twenty years ago flying machines of some make were successfully operated,—The model must have been lost.

Saw-Mill Burned.

A large portable saw mill situated in South Cornish and owned and operated by Nathan Sanborn of Baldwin, was totally destroyed by fire early Thursday morning, the 12th. The fire is supposed to have caught from the smoke stack. About ten cords of oak besides several lots of lumber were consumed in the fire. The loss is estimated to be about $1,000. It is said that the mill will be immediately rebuilt as Mr. Sanborn has a large amount of lumber to saw for the Maine Central railroad.

Nezinscot Capsized

The tug Nezinscot, attached to the Portsmouth navy yard, was capsized with all on board off Cape Ann. The tug was named by Secretary of the Navy John D. Long for the Nezinscot river which flows through his native village of Buckfield. The Nezinscot was originally named the DeWitt C. Ivins, before she was bought by the government.

The Shepherd Knoweth His Sheep.

A noted divine in Washington was constantly urging his flock to be more sociable, and to give a hearty welcome to "the stranger within the gates," not forgetting to maintain a proper interest in the members of their own households. After one of his most effective sermons on his pet theme, he went to the door as usual and began to shake hands industriously with the people passing out after the service.

He was much intererted in a well-dressed and intelligent looking young girl, apparently a stranger, and greeted her heartily.

"I hope we may see you often here," he said. "We always have a warm welcome for new faces."

"Thank you, sir," she replied modestly.

"Do you live hereabout?" he went on.

The girl looked at him with a puzzled smile. "Yes, sir, I do.

"Will you kindly leave me your address, and my wife and I will call on you some evening?" he said.

"You would not have far to go to find me—I am your cook."

ANDOVER.

Annie Akers will teach at Mt. Vernon this fall.

Evelyn Elliott will resume her studies at Bethel Academy.

Mrs. Lizzie Akers Crooker of Norway has been visiting in town.

Martha Cushman of South Andover will teach in Rumford this fall.

Fred Smith, Charles O. Poor and Y. A. Thurston have been at their camp at C pond.

Mrs. Fred Akers and children have been to Farmington to visit her people before returning to their home in Connecticut.

The Andover Water Co. has voted to have the president and treasurer execute bonds on the property to raise money, not exceeding $15,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Akers entertained the Congregational circle at their pleasant home. A large number of people were present and ice cream and cake were served on the beautiful lawn, which was lighted with lanterns.

A fire was discovered in the woods belonging to Davis of Upton, which burned over quite an area before it was under control. Men are getting out pulp there and the dead tops made a hot fire.

THE BEST REMEDY

For Women—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Noah, Ky. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from headaches, nervous prostration, and hemorrhages.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound mademe well and strong, so that I can do all my housework, and attend to the store and post-office, and I feel muchyounger than I really am.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most successful remedy for all kinds of female troubles, and I feel that I can never praise it enough."—MRS. LIZZIE HOLLAND, Noah, Ky.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

East Livermore Camp Meeting.

East Livermore Camp meeting will open Aug. 20, and continue till Aug. 30. The services will be conducted by Rev. B. C. Wentworth of Norway. Rev. J. Alexander Betcher of Livermore Falls, a fine soloist and chorus leader, will conduct the singing. Thursday, Aug. 26, will be observed as Campmeeting John Allen Memorial Day with a sermon in the a. m. appropriate for the occasion by Rev. A. S. Ladd, D. D.

Dr. Wentworth Stuart of Detroit, Mich., Field Agent of the Commission on Aggressive Evangelism of the Methodist church, will be present Monday, the 23rd, and will speak afternoon and evening until the close of the meeting. Dr. Stuart is a Maine man and is a brilliant preacher and writer.

Rev. Harry S. Ryder of Rumford, will have charge of the meeting for the first three days while Mr. Wentworth is detained at the closing services at East Poland, where he will be in charge of the camp meeting.

Good board and lodging can be obtained on the ground at reasonable rates.

Blunders of Preachers.

Solemnity of the Surroundings Emphasizes Unconscious Humor.

Each profession has its stock jokes, its stories innumerable, and to each belongs a flavor all its own. It must be admitted that the blunders and jests clerical stand for some reason pre-eminent both in number and in mirth producing qualities.

The reason, of course, is not far to seek; the very surroundings in which they occur, the very upsetting of one's preconceived notions of reverence, all tend to cause a reaction in the ordinary mental equilibrium, and the simplest mistake or accident under such circumstances assumes the proportions of a huge comedy.

The divine, who, in drawing the attention of his congregation to a special communion service on the following Sunday, informed them that "the Lord is with us in the forenoon and the bishop in the evening," is chronicled with praying for the children of the parish in these words: "And now, O Lord, bless the lambs of this fold, and make them meet for the kingdom of heaven."

A Scotch minister innocently, perhaps, hit the mark by telling his people: "Well, friends, the kirk is urgently in need of siller; and as we have failed to get money honestly we will have to see what a bazar can do for us."

There is a certain amount of excuse to be made for the young curate who remarking that some people came to church for no better reason than to show off their best clothes, finished up as he glanced over his audience: "I am thankful to see, dear friends, that none of you has come here for that reason."

An Irish clergyman is credited with having concluded a powerful oration in this fashion: "My brethren, let not this world rob you of a peace which it can neither give nor take away."

Which is coupled with the remark of a fellow-country colleague, who, in reasoning with a woman who had lost her faith in Christianity, told her: "Well, you will go to hell, you know; and I shall be very sorry, indeed, to see you there."

But what can be said of the negro student, who, conducting the prayers at one of the great missionary colleges, said: "Give us all pure hearts, give us all clean hearts, give us all sweet hearts," to which the entire congregation made response, "Amen."

The giving out of church notices has often proved a pitfall for the unwary. "During Lent," said a rector lately, "several preachers will preach on Wednesday evenings; but I need not give their names, as they will be all found hanging up in the porch."

It was a rector who gave out a hymn beginning, "Awake, my soul, stretch every nerve," before his sermon, and a curate who read in the lesson for the day: "He spake the words, and cathoppers came and grasspillars innumerable," but it was at a young woman's Bible class that, when asked what hymn should be sung at the close, they all with one accord chose "Where is My Wandering Boy To-night?"

Never wait for some other man's shoes. They will not fit you if you get them. They will surely pinch and give you corns. Wear your own, and wear them like a man.

Mrs. Ursula Howe of Boston is visiting her brother, J. W. Howe.

Otis Gilman has purchased the Ed. Hutchins pasture near Foster's hill.

Mrs. Annie Walker has returned from Portland and is visiting her sisters here.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Farrington of Bridgton Valley were at Mrs. Keniston's, Tuesday.

Mrs. Laura Staples, who has been visiting friends here the past two weeks, has gone to John Kendall's at Sabattus.

Albert C. Keniston is helping his grandfather, Wm. Gammon, of Stoneham cut his meadow hay.

Ridgeley C. Clark, head master of Fryeburg Academy, and friend, Mr. Gay, took dinner at Mrs. Bertha Keniston's last Thursday.

Charles Harriman came home from the hospital, Saturday. He is about the same as when he went away. Charles Smith of Westbrook came home with him and returned Sunday.

N. A. D. Wheeler of New Hampshire, the crippled peddler, was through here last week. He has not walked since 10 years old. It is wonderful how well he gets around and manages his team, having no use whatever of his legs. May he meet with kindness and success.

WEST PORTER.

Andrew Thompson has gone to Kezar Falls.

George Tewkesbury is working at Kezar Falls in the new mill.

Alonzo Libby finished haying Saturday on the Pendexter place in North Porter.

John Thompson has been helping O. G. Edgerly a few days haying the past week.

Joshua Libby made a business trip to Cornish early Friday morning.

Harry Pearl and Tobias Libby are cutting the hay on the Gibson place in Parsonsfield.

Rev. George Howard of Parsonsfield and Rev. James Perry of Cornish held services at the Center, Sunday.

Wm. Rounds of New Jersey visited at the home of J. T. Libby, Tuesday and Wednesday, this being the first visit for three years in this vicinity.

City people are plenty now. A two horse load passed through this vicinity, Friday, packed in a hay rack enjoying themselves blowing their horns.

Rain is very much needed as corn and other crops are fast drying up and with the raging of the grasshoppers field crops are standing a hard sight. Cattle in some places are suffering for food.

GILEAD.

It is very serious here about getting water. Lots of springs are dry which never were before.

Dane Hamlin and two other friends of Gorham, N. H., were the guests of Mildred Bennett, Sunday.

There was an entertainment and dance at the hall, Saturday night, for the benefit of the Mountain Rills.

Alex P. Russell of the International Paper mill of Livermore Falls was the guest of James DeCoster last week.

Leon Waters is cutting the grass on the Billy Morse place. He is going to stack it on the same land and this fall it will be pressed and sold.

There was a very exciting game of base ball here, Saturday, between the married and single men. It resulted in favor of the single men 6 to 3. We understand that it will be repeated next Saturday. Look out, boys, this time.

NORWAY LAKE.

A party of fellows made up of Jack Smith, Merton Greene, Victor Partridge, Donald Partridge, Walter King and Ernest Murch went camping one day last week by the side of Little Pennesseewassee or Hobbs pond. They went fishing and caught enough for their dinner, which they ate on the shore of the pond.

Mechanic Falls 5, Hebron 0.

By errorless fielding and fine pitching, Mechanic Falls shut out Hebron last Saturday. Mechanic Falls did some heavy hitting, scoring eleven hits with a total of fifteen bases. The summary.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

Jessie and Philip Walker have been making a week's visit at Lakeside, the summer home of their uncle, J. A. Bennett.

Charles H. Walker and wife of Stoneham, Mass., were calling in Fryeburg last week. They were returning home after a few weeks' outing in the Rangeley Lake region.

Eugene O. Abbott took a run down to Portland from Fryeburg on his bicycle, starting about 4 o'clock in the morning and arriving in Portland the first of the afternoon. Mr. Abbott covered 53 miles going by way of Bridgton and down through the country via Naples, Raymond, North Windham. Mr. Abbott moved to Fryeburg from Portland last November for the purpose of engaging in market gardening. He has paid especial attention to the raising of cucumbers and his "cukes" were among the first to reach the Portland market the past year. He is still harvesting cucumbers but will soon supplement them with lettuce and radish.

A Day with Hannibal Hamlin.

I noticed in a recent copy of the ADVERTISER the announcement of the "Hamlin Centennial," and as it brought to mind a day spent long ago in the company of the illustrious man whose memory we all delight to honor, I thought it would be fitting at this time and perhaps interesting to some, if it should be seen in the county paper, for however it may seem to others it was a red letter day to the writer.

In consequence of a very insistent call from a confederate bullet received about a year before at the hotly contested battle of Fredricksburg, Va., the Christmas tide of 1863 found me at Mt. Pleasant General Hospital, Washington, D. C., on "Detached service." A short distance away lived a Maine man, who was connected with the Government by the name of Brown, who was, I think, from Bangor.

A few days before Christmas an invitation came from him for the Maine boys in the hospital to eat Christmas dinner at his house, which it is needless to say was very gladly accepted. At the proper time about twelve or fifteen of us presented ourselves at the mansion and were very hospitably received by Mr. Brown and wife, who in a short time conducted us to the dining room, where we found the tables spread and loaded with everything that goes to make up a royal good dinner, and also that we were to have the very distinguished honor of being served by the Vice President of the United States, Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, and wife assisted by our host and wife and daughters, (the servants being relegated to the rear) who in the easy way we have in good old Maine soon dispelled any feeling of embarrassment we may have felt in such distinguished company, and in due time we had discussed one of the finest dinners it was ever my good fortune to sit down to.

After this was over we were formally introduced to the Vice President and wife, and as I chanced to be the only one present from Oxford county and my home town being Waterford, where Mr. Hamlin had a sister living (the wife of the Hon. Daniel Brown) I was taken aside for a private interview, much to the astonishment of my fellow soldiers who seemed to think that "Ike's" lines had fallen in pleasant places and "Ike" thought so too.

The afternoon was very pleasantly passed listening to the "home" talk of Mr. Hamlin and his gifted wife, interspersed with music by the daughters of the house, assisted by those of the "boys" who were musically inclined, one of whom suddenly remembered that he had "pounded a piano up home" and on trial proved to be so expert as to gain an invitation from our host, which was very warmly seconded by the young ladies, to assist in the holiday entertainments of the house. This completely took the wind out of our sails and down they came, for what boy of nineteen wouldn't gladly forego the pleasure of conversing with the greatest statesman of the land for the smiles of a pretty girl.

But all things have an end and so did this long to be remembered day, and after three times three and a tiger for our host and his illustrious visitors we returned to camp, feeling that the hardships and privations we had seen and were still destined to endure were important if humble factors in the great drama that was then being carried on for the preservation of the greatest and most glorious government the world has ever known. A Good Creed For Any Business.

Following is the creed of the United Commercial Travelers of America.

"Believe in the goods you are handling, in the firm you are working for, and in your ability to get results.

"Believe that honest goods can be sold to honest men by honest methods.

"Believe in working, not weeping; in boosting, not knocking, and in the pleasure of your job.

"Believe a man gets what he goes after, that one deed done today is worth two done tomorrow, and that no man is down and out until he has lost faith in himself.

"Believe in courtesy, in kindness, in generosity, in good cheer, in friendship, in honest competion.

"When you meet a knocker, don't pattronize him, don't listen to him. Hit him in the place where his brains ought to be and kick him where they are."

Field Day at McIntire's.

There is a home in East Waterford of four McIntire families, consisting of Justin E. McIntire and his two sons, Leslie E. McIntire, Bertrand G. McIntire, and Clayton S. McIntire, son of Leslie, 27 years of age.

This was the place appointed for the August meeting of the Waterford and Norway Cow-Testing Association and by the happy thought and generous invitation of Brother L. E. McIntire, the able lecturer of Bear Mountain Grange of South Waterford, that lively body of Grangers assembled at the L. E. McIntire house to celebrate its annual field day, the 12th.

Prof. Leon S. Merrill, State Dairy Instructor, accompanied by his competent assistant, R. W. Redman of the Augusta office, and Prof. P. A. Campbell of the department of animal industry of the State College, Orono, were present. At 11 a. m. the testing association assembled in the ample barn floor and proceeded to the business of the session. About 200 members and visitors were present, with President L. E. McIntire and Sec. W. K. Hamlin in their respective chairs. The question for discussion was: "Ensilage cutting with water or without water"

Benjamin Tucker of Norway said there is no use to put in water if the fodder is not too ripe.

Alfred W. Hersey agreed with Mr. Tucker, and President McIntire affirmed the opinions of those gentlemen.

E. L. Skinner of Waterford uses water to some extent and covers silo with some rough material, the more the better.

Alvin Brown of Norway gave his method of filling the silo. He uses quantities of husks from corn shop spreading over the corn and treading solidly around the edge of silo. He puts in corn in whole form.

C. S. Hamlin, Waterford, gave his interesting experience in filling silo by cutting ensilage. He thinks it is a quicker way and less expensive in labor.

Harlan Brown of Norway cuts his corn when some ears are glazed. He has always watered silo and cuts fodder fine and well packed. It always keeps well.

Lyman Plummer of Lovell has practiced cutting ensilage for 13 years with the help of an engine. He prefers yellow to sweet corn. If ensilage is cut fine it keeps better and gives better results in feeding. Mr. Plummer testified to gathering a few of the best ears for seed, and President McIntire asked if he thought it pays to pick off any of the ears to which he responded, "yes."

Mr. Brown of Norway said the ensilage is good enough without all the best ears.

Prof. Campbell gave his experience and observation of summer silos and gave an instance of feeding ensilage two years old from the bottom of a silo, and that cows like it and give improved results in milk.

Mr. Redman mentioned a number of instances of summer silos that proved satisfactory and closed the session with an elaborate description of the process of constuction of silos, illustrated by a diagram of a circular silo at the farm of Hon. B. W. McKeen of Fryeburg.

The next meeting is appointed at Norway Grange hall the second Wednesday of September all day.

One of the most agreeable features of the day's festivities was the unexpected appearance of the Mackietonquor brass band of 15 excellent players from North Norway, Chesley French, leader.

Her Success.

A woman who learned French millinery work and to-day holds one of the most responsible positions as buyer and designer, owes her success to an artist friend.

This friend, upon hearing the young woman was desirous of learning the millinery trade, said to her: "If you start into that line of work, go as an artist, begin as one and make your trial in the studio."

This was a new turn of affairs, but the artist explained in this manner: "You desire to begin a work and you do not wish it to be mediocre, and you want all the money you can make out of it, then, my advice to you is first study art. Go to the studio, study the old prints, the rare combinations of colors, shading, blending, the lines of fine hats.

"The stroke of the brush will do more toward helping you in designing original frames than several years at apprenticeship. If there is any artistic ability in you, you will develop it first with palette, brush and paint."

She went and she drew crude designs, until finally the hand became more skilled and the patterns were truer. She learned proportions. Then the most tedious task of all was started, that of color schemes. She learned to blend tones together which she supposed would clash, the shades that are so vastly different yet melt beautifully together were brought out in water colors. She put heart and soul into her work.

Then began the first humble steps in millinery, the making of wire hats and crinoline ones, but there was not a day that her previous training did not come to her assistance.

She learned the various types of faces, graceful coiffures and what hats best suited their patrons.

She got into the work gradually. They marvelled at the accuracy and dexterity with which she turned a stiff crinoline or bunch of wire and flimsy silks into French creations.

She kept her secret. It was money to her.

Purest Flour

"Of the various qualities of flour obtained from the same wheat, the lower grades are those most contaminated with grease, dirt, and objectionable bacteria; the freedom of flour from these, increases with its purity."

PROF. WM. JAGO,
the well-known English chemist.

The purity of William Tell flour is due to the costly equipment and exceptional care to keep the grain and flour clean.

The wheat is stored in hermetically sealed tanks at the big mills of Ansted & Burk Co.

Before grinding, it is cleaned six times.

Neither grain nor flour ever touches anything but the bright, clean surfaces of dust-proof machinery. Even the flour bags are sewed up by machinery.

Additional Pests.

Additional pests to bother the people of Maine have been discovered, and this time it has been found that thousands of hornets are destroying the berries. They are so numerous and doing such damage that the people of certain sections are looking about anxiously for some method whereby the insects may be destroyed. Growers of blackberries and raspberries are not only finding their crops destroyed but by personal contact with the hornets they are put to more or less inconvenience. The insects that are causing the trouble are the white faced hornet and the yellow hornet.

BUCKFIELD.

His 86th Birthday.

William Irish celebrated his 86th birthday Thursday, Aug 19th. His parents, Stephen and Mary (Hinds) Irish, cleared the farm at South Hartford on which their nine children were born. Two died in infancy. Those living to maturity were: Irene, Elbridge, Elvira, Abel, William, Stephen, Emery and Mary Ann. Of these William is the only one now living.

He worked, as was the custom in those days, for the father on the farm until he was twenty-one, with the exception of the summer he was eighteen when with his parents permission, he worked on a farm in Massachusetts, making the journey by stage to Portland and from there by boat to Boston. Returning in the autumn, he brought his hard earned dollars to his father in a silk handkerchief tied about his neck for safety.

His first job after attaining his majority was building a stone wall, material for which was, and is, plentiful in the town of Hartford, In November, he again left to try his fortune in Massachusetts and there worked for six years as a shoe maker in Randolph. He then returned to Maine and bought a farm near Buckfield village. The farm contained one field partially cleared, the rest woodland. Living in a camp by himself he cleared the land and built a commodious set of farm buildings, now owned and occupied by Frank Chase, and in 1853 brought to them a young bride, Sybil Clementine Keene, a daughter of Lubal Keene of Sumner.

One son, Herbert F., now a prominent farmer in Buckfield, was born to them. In 1858 the young wife died and in 1859 Mr. Irish married Mary Ann Ford, a daughter of Cushing and Clarissa (Young) Ford of Sumner. They celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary April 9, of the present year. To them were born three children, Sybil C., who died at five years of age, Clara Lietta, now Mrs. G. E. Marston of Auburn, and Willie D., who died twelve years ago.

In 1862 Mr. Irish sold the farm in Buckfield and purchased the Winslow Hall farm in Hartford where he lived until failing health rendered the care of the farm impossible and he sold twelve years ago purchasing a place at Buckfield village where he has since resided.

Teachers Assigned.

Supt. Smith has made the following assignments of teachers for the three towns embraced in this district. Schools at Hartford to open Aug. 30, with the following teachers:

Town Farm—Fred Stetson.
Center—Etta Monaghan.
